English Dream

Burberry has had a complete makeover thanks to mastermind designer Christopher Bailey. The company, once stodgy and briefly ghetto-fabulous (think head-to-toe check prints), is now more fashion-forward than ever. From ultrafeminine trench coats trimmed in bows to slightly retro A-line dresses, the list of must-have pieces is endless. With a new store opening in the Waterside Shops at Pelican Bay, our neighbors on the Gulf Coast now have easy access to cool Brit style.

LATEST SCOOP

The thrill of dropping a fat wad of cash on far too many pairs of shoes is always exhilarating. But after reality sets in, regret is sure to follow. Fortunately, Scoop NYC and C.O. Bigelow have partnered to help shopaholics give something back to the community so they can keep on shopping guilt-free. Every time you purchase a limited-edition Mentha Lip Shine, a portion of the proceeds will go toward the Make-A-Wish Foundation, which helps grant the wishes of terminally ill children. Available at Scoop NYC inside The Shore Club, Miami Beach, $7.50.

COMIC CRAZE

Doesn't everyone deep down want to be a superhero? Loren Kreiss of home design company Kreiss felt that exact sentiment, so he teamed with famed illustrator to make it happen. His first collaboration in conceptual home design, "The Manipulative Living," is a comic story projected along the walls of your apartment. Though he has authored several stories already, he can tailor the design to the customer's wishes. Next up for the forward-thinking Kreiss is the debut of a one-of-a-kind customization, "Artifacts," illustrated by Aki Kakeda. From children's books to feature-length novel, there is no stopping this talented superhero. For more information, call 212-593-2121 or go to www.kreiss.com.
